Oceania names David Carr 'World's Best'

WORLD-beating middle-distance running ace David Carr could be walking soon – along the red carpet in Monaco.

David would follow in the footsteps of another superb WA athlete, Lyn Ventris, who was declared the IAAF Master Athlete of the Year in 2011 and 2012.

Our Oceania region has nominated David for the 2013 honour. Final selection will be made by the WMA next month, when it convenes in Porto Alegre, Brazil, for the world championships.

If successful David would travel to Monaco, where the annual awards are announced and celebrated.

Several WA members will make the crossing to South America and David Carr will almost certainly be among them, defending his top spot in M80 800m and steeplechase.

Picture:

David fronts the M80 'Bolters'! – inspired by the world's fastest man, Usain Bolt. This M80 squad set a new 4x400m world record of 5:32.29 last November at Southport, Queensland.

Nominating David for the IAAF award, Oceania reminds us:

"An all-round athlete, David has run everything from 100m to marathons and also competed in jumps and throwing events.

"He has set numerous Australian and State records and held M75 World records in the 800m and 2000m steeplechase.

"As an M80, this year he has repeated these world-beating performances, breaking the M80 steeplechase world record three times over a seven months period."

About our membership ...

IT'S always interesting, receiving the updated membership list from Peggy MacLiver. Peg keeps track of everyone, and this includes supplying me with names of new members joining each month.

Her meticulous records show that at August 31 we had 459 members.

The lists supplied to Vetrun, and committee members includes a separate list of members who are 'non-financial' (because they failed to renew their membership in March).

Different strokes – Run for your Life!

Hi, I know there are many Masters who have survived worse, and without wanting to sound too morbid – do you know that strokes are the second most common cause of death in Australia?

One in every six people will experience them; and they can happen to anyone, at any time, regardless of age – including the unborn! – and to marathon runners. Stroke can be completely disabling, if not fatal. The good news is that it is possible to fully recover from them. Some sufferers go on to perform all kinds of amazing feats, run marathons, etc.

It happened to me ... I only discovered these facts after my own recent stroke, which came out of the blue, and was quite a serious one.

Fortunately, the hundreds of kilometres I have run and walked over the years apparently protected me from what should have been serious disabilities.

Miraculously, it has actually improved my hearing! I have been able to stop using my hearing aids.

So keep up the kilometres, everyone.

Nervous

Currently, my 'age carer' daughter is nervous about letting me out on the roads, either on foot, driving a car, or riding my bike, and – worse – has limited me to only one glass of wine a day! Alcohol can affect the clot busting drugs. I have been practising, round, and around an obstacle course in her tiny back yard, and I am looking forward to competing once again.

So look out fellow-walkers, and keep away from my left

About membership from P1

Those names remain on that list for one year (or until they renew) before disappearing into oblivion. At the end of August around 150 names were listed.

COMMUNICATIONS

Survey is coming to you

OVER the next few weeks the club committee will be carrying out a survey to get your views on how effectively we communicate with members. The survey also includes a question related to the future of Vetrun.

To maximise participation, the survey will take the form of a short face to face discussion at either a Sunday run or a track meet. The survey is anonymous but you can record your name on the response sheet if you wish. Ross Keane (Sundays) and the Thomas family (track) have kindly agreed to carry out the survey.

If you will not be at a club event, the survey questionnaire is available on the website. If you don't have computer access, contact the committee to get a posted copy. You can return your form by email, post or by handing to a committee member: or just email your answers to the club secretary at mawasecretary@gmail.com.

We would like a large response to this survey so that the results are truly representative of members' views; and the survey results will be published.

hand side, as my visual processing on that side is apparently not too crash-hot.

But at least I can now hear anyone sneaking up behind me! Cheers.

Peter Barrington

Hello Vic I STILL love receiving the Vetrun.

A comment on Brian Bennett's suggestion about 'Meeting and Greeting' new members; this is not a new idea.

When I joined the Vets nearly 30 years ago, both Joan Pellier and I were on the Committee. Our position was 'Hostesses'! We used to meet and greet new members, ask what running/jogging pace they were at and introduce them to members that were running at a similar pace.

Mind you in those days there were only approximately 100 members.

But I am sure there would be quite a few members that could fit the bill of 'host/hostesses'.

I can relate to Brian's feeling when first going to a new club, it's nice to either know someone or made to feel welcome.

Regards
Jacqueline Billington

PS: I often remember when I use to go round to your home and type up the Vetrun for you. Before that time I was also Editor for a while, using the old golf ball typewriter, after Jeff Whittam finished doing it.

Then for many years I did it for Richard Harris! Type, set up and take to printers, then give to Jackie Halberg. All so long ago.

Cheers
JB

In My View ...

by the Editor

Thanks, snappers

OUR new club camera has been well-used by several members. Their work is used on the website (Road gallery) and some is in this Vetrun. Don't have all your names, though I did see Lyn Choate in action at City Rail. Thanks to you all, and to Frank Smith for the City to Surf pix.

Collect your KEYS!

RECENTLY members have become a trifle tardy – in collecting their carkeys.

Long after the Sunday events have finished they linger in the box.

Occasionally keys left in the box have been gathered up with the equipment for the next week's run.

Now, I don't want to name names, but after the City Rail run a pathetic wretch was wandering around, shivering, and regretting. He claimed that after a long absence from Sunday mornings he had forgotten his routine, forgotten to pin his keys to shorts with his old nappy pin.

Director Mike Rhodes was on the phone calling for back-up, when we found, luckily, that Delia had not headed for the hills with the gear, but driven off to collect the club banner. The missing keys were retrieved from the back of her car by a diligent Maurice Creagh. Thanks, mate!

So ... club secretary Val Millard observes:

"All members are reminded that they must retrieve their keys as soon as they have finished their run. It's not the committee's nor the race director's responsibility to chase up owners of keys left in the box."

Quite right; shocking behaviour. VW

Lynne Schickert retires from AMA Board

AFTER 10 years on the AMA Board, Lynne has decided not to re-nominate for 2013-14.

From 2003 to 2009 Lynne – who is also a Life Member of our own club – was AMA President. She remained a board member until this year, her duties including communications and marketing, and she has an on-going commitment to compiling the history of AMA.

For the past seven years she has been involved in production of the AMA Handbook, with husband Bob, and Vetrun editor Vic Waters, and will continue with that work.

Oceania

Although stepping back from some involvement in AMA matters, Lynne is still working at the top level of Masters Athletics.

She remains the Oceania Region delegate to World Masters Athletics and is WMA's representative on the Perth 2016 Championship Committee.

Masters Athletics WA offers sincere wishes to Lynne in her continuing endeavours – and thanks her for the enormous contribution she has made to the administration and promotion of Masters Athletics, in our State, in Australia, and internationally.

IF you are looking for a different run combined with company of like-minded athletes from all over the world, sightseeing in the Red Centre and a well-organised race, then the Outback Marathon could be for you.

On July 27th, three WA Masters athletes took on the soft red sandy course which was punctuated with small dunes. The cool morning start changed to a warm run a few hours later amongst the background of desert oaks, and the landmark Uluru and Olga rock formations.

Four courses were on offer; a marathon, half marathon, 11 km and 6.4 km races.

Ninety three runners lined up for the marathon with Clive Choate, in his first 42.2 km race, finishing in 4:18.20 for 27th overall. The event was won in 3:07.32 and Clive was second in the M60 category.

In the half marathon Steve Weller produced a great run, winning the race in 1:26.07. Steve beat a field of 84 runners with a winning margin of 41 seconds in a terrific performance.

Brazilian warm-up

Lynne Choate, who has been doing a few Sunday runs as she prepares for her sprint events in Brazil in October, enjoyed the 6.4km run and in finishing 13th in a field of 41 runners was the first

by
CLIVE AND LYNNE CHOATE

Clive in his first marathon – and he did it in the desert

W60 home in an atmosphere full of friendship and encouragement.

With a total of approximately 300 participants, there was plenty of opportunity to mix with other athletes. A warm-up run on the desert tracks and a welcome-dinner were conducted on the Thursday before the race.

Friday saw most go out early for an Uluru sunrise, then walk around the rock and visit to the interpretive centre.

Later a welcome ceremony was held with traditional dancers and a race briefing which recognised the feats of many entrants – some lining up for their sixth race on six continents – and one runner doing his 26th marathon this year, which equates to one a week!

Saturday was marathon day and buses took runners and supporters out into the desert for the early, very cold start. A didgeridoo started the event which was fitting in the setting. A huge welcome ushered in all finishers, with an informal gathering later that night at the Outback Pioneer Pub.

Kata Tjuta

Many hiked the 'Valley of the Winds' in the Kata Tjuta formation next day before a celebration dinner which was held later that night, in the desert under the stars. Many presentations were made as new friends mixed and shared their experiences of the run. Those with time also visited Kings Canyon which was a full day trip away from Uluru.

How to ...

Logistically direct travel to Uluru is not easy, and to compete you need to take an accommodation package with the race organisers, but the race and supporting events made for a great experience. For more information on this unique event, google Australian Outback Marathon. ■

THE weather was almost perfect and some said even too hot. As per usual the combination of efficient helpers, marshals and chalk ensured that no one got lost and everyone got recorded. This year there were no clashes with the Marathon Club so that made things easier.

Linda and I have decided that after about 25 years this will be our last as race directors so thank you to everybody who has helped or run with us during that time.

PS If keys are not taken out of the box before packing up starts they may end up in Timbuktu! Mike

A BURST of sunshine in between days of seemingly endless rain greeted the Dash runners this year which meant the course was still hazardous but not quite impassable.

Twelve hours earlier I thought I might have to abandon the course or else hand out flippers at the start. I did have to shorten the turn a few metres though. The local bakery had even closed down (although they do have a nice coffee shop now) and so we had to go further afield to supply our traditional morning tea fare. Thanks again to Jacqui and Vic Beaumont for their sterling job in the tea-rooms and all those that helped – it was greatly enjoyed by all.

Well done to everyone who made it up the hill and back or even twice and I hope you managed to enjoy the scenery on the way. We couldn't hold this event however, without some very dedicated helpers – thanks to Irwin and Berwine Barrett-Lennard, Richard Blurton, Kerriann Bresser, Ray Hall, Dennis and Sandra Hughes, John Mack and Milton Mavrick.

Good thinking, Milton; that's the way to slow the traffic – fetch a mate with a pitchfork!

Director Delia's announcement: "and now, on my right, my lovely assistant will demonstrate how to eat a sandwich."

No, Hamish. You can't catch her by flying. Or, did you fall in the stream – just drying the shirt?

Looking for fresh motivation?

OKAY, by now all the big winter runs are done and dusted for the year and if you are also a track and field athlete this season has yet to get fully going so you are left in this 'in-between' zone.

Sometimes this leaves you lacking motivation and focus in your running.

I certainly feel this way after winter and have decided to make two changes for this period of the year. Maybe you could take something from these?

Melbourne Half

Firstly, I entered the Melbourne half-marathon (marathon too far for me!) in October which I've never done before. This will be a different experience and has kept me running three to four times a week regularly. I have to do this because I need to stay fit enough to go the distance.

Other events such as the Fremantle half marathon, Rottneest marathon and the Masters Oceania championship in Bendigo Victoria could be options for you – and they also come up in the next couple of months.

Secondly, I have decided to back off.

I have also dropped my 'energy-intensive' Tuesday speed/ interval session for a while and am deliberately running more slowly in general.

I have been setting out to enjoy my runs more and also, sometimes, leave that satellite watch in the drawer.

Making the enjoyment and not the time, the prime motivator has me running more relaxed.

I feel enthusiastic about my running for the week again. I am less tired after each run, so have been recovering more quickly for the next run.

Training is not shaping up as a chore and my motivation issues have flown out the door!

Happy running!

Ross

Not everyone chooses to dash down the Darlington track! Jim Barnes and Kirt Johnson lead Lorna Lauchlan and Bob Fergie (above, left) while Brian Bennett is dashing as ever (above). Below, one of our newer members, Stuart MacKinnon.
