Sunday changes

DUE to a prior booking at Gwelup, we have been forced to change the Sunday programme: Gwelup moves to November 20.

Woodman Point will take place November 27.

If any helpers who have signed for these runs are unable to make the new date, please let Richard Blurton know.

Nostalgia

AGM 2002 - IN BRIEF

FULLER information, including meeting minutes, record-setters and more is readily available at the club website.

The committee will number just seven this year, Mark Howard having stepped down. "However, if necessary we can appoint an extra member," said President Richard Blurton.

Annual awards presented at the AGM were:

* John Gilmour Award: Todd Davey

* Most Improved - Road: David Adams

Most improved - T&F: Sue Coate
President's Pin: Steve Barrie.

you WRITE

Hello Vic, We had quite a few from the club run this event and run well yesterday, so I thought a bit of a summary might be worthwhile.

It was Bunbury Runners Club's 40th year and attracted almost 600 runners.

We had a beautiful clear and still morning for the event which was great weather for running and it was well organised with 100-plus officials on course.

As best I can see from the results, here are the relevant ones.

Ultra Marathon (Seven competitors). No Masters.

IN MY VIEW

MY view was hazy and most of Vetrin October was produced under the influence of drugs. So, apologies for any shortcomings - but sincere thanks to Jenny Hogg!

Jenny has photographed you all, supplying pictures for the website and Vetrin from all of September's Sunday meetings.

Despite recovering from her own injury she turned out every Sunday morning, and has also offered to cover some October events. Jenny's excellent pics are right through this edition, including the front cover.

Marathon (100 competitors). David Adams, Ante Perdja (past member).

Half Marathon (nearly 300 competitors). Kevin Johnson 1st M60-69, Sandra Stockman 2nd W50-59, Sue Zlnay 1st W60-69 (very, very quick at about 1.41), Chris Pattinson 3rd W60-69, Don Pattinson, Mark Kerr, Rodney Glossop, Marie Van Blomstein (and her Masters partner).

10km (99 competitors). Ngaio Kerr, Geoff O'Brien - dead last but only coz partner Sue wouldn't let him run and made him walk it! (He fell over at the Sharks and another Masters run recently.)

5km (95 competitors). Ross Keane 1st Veteran, Raynor Keane, Rosemary Giles (past member; I passed her right at the finish line).

Kind regards, Ross Keane

The Director directing – for the last time, after 25 years in the park.

WE were lucky to have a beautiful fresh sunny morning for the run this year, with the wildflowers starting to appear. Although there had been rain during the week, which should have dampened down the sand track, everyone appeared to have found it a challenge, judging by the times.

Unfortunately, the numbers were rather disappointing again, with only 87 members and just 15 visitors.

This may have been due to this run again clashing with the Marathon Club who had their Lake Gwelup Run on. (A much easier run, which may have tempted some members!)

Finally, I would like to thank all my willing helpers, who made my job much easier and resulted in another very successful event.

Looking at the history of this event, I believe that it is one of the oldest runs on the calendar, if not one of the originals. When I became involved with directing it, way back in the '90s, the course was very complex, covering just about every sand track in the park, and used to take Warren Gee and myself all Saturday afternoon to mark out.

All worth it, as it was real cross country. That lasted until the Kings Park Board decided we were doing too much damage!

Hence the many modifications that have had to be made over recent years. After 25 years, I feel that it is time for me to stand aside and let someone younger take over the reins and keep the tradition of this run going, as it is one of the few cross country runs left on the calendar.

So, if anyone is interested in taking over this rewarding role, please call me (0408 939 293).

Frailty in old age

Guardian

Research may reveal why people can suddenly become frail in their 70s.

SCIENTISTS discover “catastrophic” change in blood cell composition, raising prospect of new therapies to slow ageing process.

A ground-breaking theory of ageing that explains why people can suddenly become frail after reaching their 70s has raised the prospect of new therapies for the decline and diseases of old age.

Researchers in Cambridge discovered a process that drives a “catastrophic” change in the composition of blood in older age, increasing the risk of blood cancers and anaemia, and impairing the effectiveness of white blood cells to fight infection.

The scientists believe similar changes occur in organs throughout the body, from the skin to the brain, potentially underpinning why people often age healthily for decades before experiencing a more rapid decline in their 70s and 80s.

“What’s exciting about this work is there may be a common set of processes at work,” said Dr

VALE Aldo Giacomin

by his son
Dante Giacomin

ALDO was born in the village of Rai in northern Italy.

With Italy being home to one of the cycling grand tours, the focus of all young Italian men was take up cycling and attempt to emulate their cycling heroes. He built his own bike and competed in various amateur races in his region. He qualified as a fitter and turner/motor mechanic and his work gave him opportunities to work in other countries such as Switzerland (two years) and then Zambia/Northern Rhodesia in the 1950s and '60s where he met and married his wife Audrey. They returned to Italy for about three years before moving to Rhodesia/Zimbabwe in 1972.

5km starter

Dad didn't take up running until 1984 when a 5km fun run started up just a few hundred metres from the front door of his suburban house in Harare.

He joined us, his two sons Dante and D'Arcy, in that run and this started his running journey.

Next Aldo then joined the main running club Rhodes Athletic Club (later Harare Athletic Club) and then started competing in the longer races. He made his first attempt at a marathon in late 1985 but wasn't able to complete it. That didn't stop him and he completed the Peter Gradwell and Mark Manolios marathons the following year.

In 1987 he broke through fourhours in the Peter Gradwell marathon.

Our family moved to Melbourne in 1990 and in the six months we were there he completed The Great Train Race against Puffing Billy (the train won!). The sprawling city of Melbourne didn't suit us and we all moved over to Perth. It wasn't long before Aldo joined the running scene and he completed the City to Surf 12km a few weeks after arriving.

Over the next 12 months he joined the WA Marathon Club and the Veteran's Athletics Club (now Masters Athletics). In 1991 and 1993 he completed the Perth Marathon, and these turned out to be his final attempts at that distance. Aldo usually turned up at club runs with me, and I joined in the shorter distances.

Retirement

When Aldo retired at the age of 65 in 2001 my parents took a liking to travelling, especially cruises, they completed more than 20 of them.

When he wasn't travelling he played tennis several times a week at local tennis clubs and continued with his running, gradually moving away from the 10km events to the 5km. Aldo finished his last run in his late 70s but still kept up his tennis and pottering around his house and garden.

He remained active until the last six months of his life but ill health got in the way. He leaves behind his wife Audrey, his daughter and myself in Perth, my brother who lives in Brisbane, and five grandchildren.

AFTER a week of rain, runners and walkers were treated to a clear, cool morning, with just a gentle southerly breeze.

With pathway repairs only completed three days prior, it meant an uninterrupted run for the first time in four years, which allowed athletes to focus entirely on their race.

Our course helpers provided a friendly and professional environment, and the event went without a glitch. Thank you to all helpers. You were a great team to work with.

There were thirty-one runners in the 5km event, with Mitch and Denise Cleasby finishing first in their respective categories. Fifty-four runners entered the 10km handicap event, with Jo Shelley crossing the line first, followed by Zane Walsh.

TROPHY FINALE!

By Handicapper Tristan Bell, who doesn't allow facts to spoil his story ...

AFTER nearly nine hours of competitive running, the 2022 Handicap Trophy was decided by a slender margin of 1 minute and 50 seconds.

While many of us were thinking 'if only I could run faster'; and many more of us 'why the hell am I doing this at my age?'; two members stood out proud, fought until the end, to provide another last-race spectacle.

Rohan Thompson, the underdog, with a narrow lead at the start of the day knew that his trial of top five finishes might be insufficient to fend off the ferocious Rodney Glossop. Rod was aiming to overcome a poor start to this year's competition, by achieving five, top-five finishes, in the final five.

Rodney knew what he must do was hunt (sorry, I mean chase) Rohan down to claim the trophy.

14-minutes lead

At Nedlands Rohan had a healthy 14-minute head start, but the Nedlands course is cruel when you're being chased by Rodney 'the machine' Glossop.

Rodney's grunts to Rohan, as they crossed in opposite directions, might fluster a lesser run-

Checking his height at Nedlands, before deciding how tall a tale to tell!

Thanks Tristan - you have made Masters' handicapping outstanding.

ner. Not Rohan, who was spurred on, and at the 5km turn was passing runners like taking lollies from children. (Huh? Ed.)

Alas, despite one of his best times of the year, Rohan was sucked back into 'the machine's' grasp and finally succumbed, battered and beaten by the man of the moment. (Strewth! Ed.)

If only Rohan could have lasted another minute and 50 seconds ...

Seriously, great run by two fantastic competitors, and congratulations to Rodney Glossop, our 2022 Handicap Trophy winner.

SEPTEMBER 11, 2022

Directors: Lynne & Bob
Schickert

AN ideal day weather-wise and a good crowd of athletes assembled for this year's Wireless Hill event. The wild-flowers were out for all to see if they had the energy during the run/walk.

Many thanks to helpers Jacinta, Peggy, Graeme, Mark, Carolyn, Bob, Geoff, Alicia and Paul and their two daughters, and David, Carol, Nicole and Ginny. All went smoothly with assistance from them.

Vic has asked me to give more detail than has been provided in the past.

The course while challenging with the hills is fairly safe but not completely safe. We have had some concerns about the up and down on the about 300 metres of road where there are houses on one side and therefore the possibility of cars moving along this section as happened this time.

We will examine an alternative but promise club members that they will not miss out on climbing the hills.

More to come after we have measured. The distances of 8km and 4km can remain the same, as will as the start and finish areas.

Bob and Lynne

Mullaloo Magic

SOME 90 or so MAWA members together with a large contingent of visitors completed the 19th running of our 'Magic' race along the spectacular Mullaloo-Burns Beach coastal path, outward and return from Tom Simpson Park. For once we had excellent sunny and dry weather!

The massive Ocean Reef Marina Project having begun means that we have had to make a course of two, 6km laps, accurately measured by a MAWA wheel which Johan and I trundled along some weeks ago. The path through to Burns Beach is likely to be obstructed by this project, at least for the next couple of years.

The course is pretty tough with two challenging uphill sections. Given that after the first 6km lap competitors knew what they were in for, I was surprised to see how many were willing to take up the 12km option!

Fencing on either side of the path through most of the course means that no athlete ever got lost on our race; though some years ago one competitor did mistakenly believe that he had!

The path has been widened this year making it safer for all users, whether on bike or foot.

Our volunteer marshals arrived in good time and performed their given roles cheerfully and efficiently. Thanks to all of them, and also to those MAWA members who every week organise the results, register the visitors, and fetch the clock and other equipment.

Thanks to all competitors, runners and race walkers for competing in our event and we look forward to seeing you and our excellent 2022 volunteer helpers again at next year's milestone race event which will mark 20 years of 'Magic'.

Dedicated

WAYNE Pantall's ever-efficient Matagarup event reminds me of what a dedicated man he is. Bush-poet, musician, ardent local activist and dedicated clubman, Wayne is, fortunately for us, typical of the selfless people who make Masters work. It's been years since Wayne could run, but he has never abandoned the club.

Like him, many masters have directed Sunday runs for decades. Ralph Henderson is one. Don't forget Paul Martin, Dave Roberts, Paul Hughes, Gary Fisher, Mike Anderson and Johan Hagedoorn, Jim Langford – and many others.

We often write there would be no runs without helpers. Without direction, the helpers efforts would be immaterial.

Society leans heavily on the selfless and willing, so let's keep thanking them all.

Our 50th – ideas?

IN 2024 Masters (WAVAC) will celebrate 50 years as the best club in the West. We must mark this date and pay tribute to the foresight of the founders.

New members

AS always, welcome! I wonder how many of our continual intake of new runners, walkers and field athletes will be around in thirty years from now, acting as club supporters and helpers – and Directors?

Frailty in old age

Peter Campbell, a senior author on the study and head of the cancer, ageing and somatic mutation programme at the Sanger Institute in Cambridge.

"Ultimately the goal would be slowing or intervening in the ageing process, but at the very least we see an option to use this to measure biological age."

Ageing is a complex process, but many scientists have suspected that the gradual build-up of mutations in cells gradually degrades the body's ability to function properly. The latest research suggests that thinking is wrong, or at best incomplete, and places the blame instead on "selfish" cells that rise to dominance in old age.

Working with scientists at the Wellcome-MRC Cambridge Stem Cell Institute, Campbell and his colleagues studied blood cells across the age range from newborns to people in their 70s and 80s. They found that adults under 65 had a wide range of red and white blood cells produced by a diverse population of 20,000 to 200,000 different types of stem cells in their bone marrow.

In the over-65s, the picture was radically different. About half of their blood cells came from a measly 10 or 20 distinct stem cells, dramatically reducing the diversity of the person's blood cells, with consequences for their health.

Writing in the journal Nature, the researchers explain that while stem cells involved in making blood gather mutations over time, most of these changes are harmless. But problems arise when rare "driver" mutations make stem cells grow faster, often producing lower-quality blood cells as a trade-off. When a person is in their 30s and 40s, the growth advantage of the aberrant stem cells makes little difference, but at 70 and over these fast-growing cells come to dominate blood cell production.

"The exponential growth explains why there is such a sudden change in frailty after the age of 70, why ageing hits at that sort of age," said Campbell. Faster-growing blood stem cells are linked to blood cancers and anaemia, but also make people less resilient to infections and medical treatments such as chemotherapy.

"What we know about other organ systems is that many of the same observations apply," Campbell added. The researchers now intend to look for the same process in skin to understand why ageing leads to wrinkles and slower wound healing.

Dr Elisa Laurenti, an assistant professor at the Wellcome-MRC Cambridge Stem Cell Institute and joint senior researcher on the study, said chronic inflammation, smoking, infection and chemotherapy could all produce stem cells with cancer-causing mutations.

"We predict that these factors also bring forward the decline in blood stem cell diversity associated with ageing," she said. "It is possible that there are factors that might slow this process down, too. We now have the exciting task of figuring out how these newly discovered mutations affect blood function in the elderly, so we can learn how to minimise disease risk and promote healthy ageing."

Track and Field Newsletter

DELIGHTED to announce that Graeme Dahl will be back to producing TFNL for the summer season. Many thanks to Carmel Meyer who did a great job of producing the magazine in the interim.

David Carr record spree

DAVID has now had six world records ratified – a quite remarkable achievement.

These are the 1,500m, 1 mile, 2,000m steeplechase, 3,000m, 5,000m and 10,000m. Not satisfied with his time for the steeplechase, he bettered it by 25s on 15th September. Thanks must go to Gillian, Barbara, Andrew and Bob Schickert for ensuring the stringent requirements for World Records were met.

Graeme Dahl

VALE Raema McMillan

Raema moved to NSW to be with family about eight years ago following the death of her husband, Jim. She was a great thrower and still holds state records W80 and W85 in every throws event including the throws pentathlon. Raema also W85 Australian records in hammer, javelin weight and throws pentathlon.

AMA National Championships

PREPARATIONS for these championships are well underway. For the first time they will be held at Sydney Olympic Park with two tracks available, and will be 10th to 13th March.

This is to avoid a clash with World Indoor Championships in Poland in late March. Visit the website via the link on the MAWA home page to see the programme and lots more information including accommodation options. The LOC are planning for 1,000 competitors so this is one not to miss.

News from ECAC

ECAC will be closed for maintenance work from 27th September to 7th October. The infield grass needs attention as well as some repair and upgrade work on the throws circles and cages ahead of the Athletics West Strive meetings to be held there while WAAS is closed.

The MAWA summer programme will commence on the 13th October, with the first Patron's Trophy event on that day.
